

INTERGOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS

S. 653 Referred to Government Operations Committee
[Proxmire]

Purpose

To authorize GAO audits of any account or operation of intelligence agencies.

Summary

Notwithstanding the CIA Act of 1949 or any other provision of law, the General Accounting Office, at the request of any congressional committee with responsibility for oversight of an intelligence agency, shall audit the accounts and operations of intelligence agencies or components under regulations prescribed by the Comptroller General. The Comptroller General shall arrange for security clearances for the employees to do the auditing.
